[Bangor]— Green Acres Kennel Shop in Bangor, will host the followings seminars for pet parents in March.

- Using Essential Oils with Pets–Saturday, March 17th at 10 AM at Green Acres Kennel Shop – Rachael Pelletier will teach attendees how to use pure essential oils to support their pet's health and wellness. This FREE class has been developed by a veterinarian and includes handouts on how to use oils safely with pets. You will learn how these natural options can support digestive issues, ease stress and anxiousness, calm sore, achy joints and inflammation, boost immune function, repel nasty pests and more! You will also learn how to replace toxic cleaning products that can cause harm to your pet with efficient and safer alternatives. As a bonus, each attendee will make an essential oil spray to take home to ease anxiety. Rachael earned a bachelors degree in Animal Science from the University of Maine and has experience in animal care. She is excited to share her knowledge and experience in creating a safer home environment and using natural options to care for your pets.

- Why Shock Collars Can Be Harmful to Our Dogs– Saturday, March 17th at 10 AM and Tuesday, March 27th at 7 PM at Green Acres Kennel Shop. – Don Hanson, co-owner of Green Acres Kennel Shop will discuss electronic shock collars and why they are a dangerous choice for training, managing, or containing a dog. He will review the scientific, peer-reviewed literature on shock as well as recommendations from veterinary behavioral experts on humane and effective alternatives to electric shock. The seminar is free. Hanson is a Certified Dog Behavior Consultant (CDBC) and a Certified Professional Dog Trainer (CPDT-KA).

Seating for all three seminars is limited. To reserve your spot call Green Acres Kennel Shop at 945-6841 or complete the online registration form at http://bit.ly/GAKS_MAR18_SEM_REG
